

Hello, Cruel World!

Obedient Grad Student

September 2, 2015

1 Introduction

This is where you tell people why they should bother reading your article.

2 Literature Review

This is the section that is invariably much longer than it should be, and where everyone tries to impress peers about how easy it is to locate various references in online databases.

3 Conclusion

Not much of a paper, but it's a start.